The Literacy Council of Carroll County is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing all adult individuals with the opportunity to learn at various levels. For those who are unable to read or write we have basic learning classes. If you have difficulty comprehending any subject, we can help you overcome these deficiencies. We offer pre-GED studies as well as assistance to those in GED programs at Carroll Community College. Our ESOL training is extremely effective given the number of graduates we have had and the successes they have achieved. We have helped numerous immigrants to receive their citizenship.

We also offer businesses the opportunity to have classes for their employees in any of our programs or we will do specialized training if that is required. We will be happy to sit down and design a program that best suits your needs, the student's abilities, and the methods you want to utilize.

We suffered financial losses due to COVID-19, but are hopeful you will reach out to support us and the community by participating in this all-important fundraiser. We had a distance learning program under way in our organization, but quickly realized that it is far from being the program we need going forward. This will involve added expense for programs and methods to reach those that do not have the technology needed to participate in the program.

The LCCC offers programs for our veterans that include all of our regular programs plus special training and guidance to the veteran and his family.

We partner with Carroll County Public School System, HSP, Carroll Community College, McDaniel College, Carroll County Library, the Judy Center to reach and help those who need our assistance. Nearly 85% of our tutors are retired teaching professionals, with the balance coming from management positions in major businesses.
