Grant from Tower Cares Foundation

The Literacy Council of Carroll County received a $5,000.00 grant from The Tower Cares Foundation. The Foundation is sponsored by Tower Federal Credit Union which is the largest credit union in Maryland.

The check was presented by Jackie MacMannis, Foundation Ambassador, to Sam Greenholtz, Literacy Council Executive Director, Sandy Sidlovsky and Allison Sanzone. This grant will be used to fund the developmental expenses associated with the Career Readiness Program for Veterans. Interested veterans or volunteers may call our office 410-857-0766 or visit at the above address between 9:30 and 12:30 Monday through Friday.

Thank you

Celebrating

July 4th

As we celebrate all that is good about living in the United States, remember to thank a veteran for what they have provided and protected for you.

Golf Tournament Friday, September 28, 2018

Preparations for the Annual Golf Tournament are well under way with several teams already registered.

People and businesses have the opportunity to be a hole sponsor with your name, business name and/or good wishes for a team. The cost to be a hole sponsor is $150.00. Your sign will also be posed on our website after the tournament so people in our community will still be able to know those people/businesses who make a difference in our community.

New Book by Jo Donaldson

Storm on Savage Mountain is about 14 year old Crissy Patrick, who is uncomfortable and unhappy with her father’s new family. She finds herself responsible for the safety of her four young step siblings during a killer blizzard. Challenges abound for the youngsters while stranded for more than a week. With their parents unable to get home, they struggle to save their farm animals and home. Can Crissy do what is necessary during this emergency? Will the family survive the 20th century?

Both the ebook and paperback versions of Storm on Savage Mountain is available through Amazon.com. It will soon be available at Eclecticity in Westminster.
